WHAT WILL THIS COURSE COVER?

Theme

Teams, where Life in ECYD Develops and Grows

The course content and experience will aim to enter the mystery of Jesus who gathers his apostles in community, forms them, and sends them out. We understand team life as the environment where ECYD life grows and develops. The course will delve into elements that help ECYD formators understand the adolescent's need to belong and the sense of group identity acknowledging the different cultural influences in a young person's social development, friendships, and social groups. We will explore how the living of this aspect of ECYD engages with current culture and is a means of restoration for the adolescent living in this culture. We will map out a vibrant living of stable ECYD teams and study the individual at play in this team dynamic and how they are accompanied to engage in team life. We will find ways to model the way and facilitate a charismatic experience of team with our own leadership teams.
